RAFI was organized under IRS code 501(c)(3), and therefore can receive tax-deductible contributions. It is comprised of three separate funds, and contributors may specify which they wish to support.

The Junior Fund is a restricted fund; disbursements from which must support the Junior Red Angus Association of America's annual budget and other approved Red Angus youth activities.

The "Sal Forbes" Research and Development Fund is another restricted fund. Named for RAAA's first executive secretary and founding member, Sal Forbes, this fund grew out of donations to have Sal honored as both the first Red Angus breeder and first woman in the livestock industry to have her portrait hung in the Saddle and Sirloin Gallery in Louisville, Kentucky.

The General Fund is a non-restricted fund; disbursements from this fund may be used for any purpose which the RAFI Board of Directors deems important in advancing the Red Angus breed.

Thank You for sponsoring RAFI and its mission to provide support that enhances the Red Angus breed and its stakeholders through investments in leadership development, scientific research and educational opportunities.
